Vavasour

2002 Canadian Sport Horse Mare 17.1 hh

Vavasour (aka Vega) is a big bodied bay mare like her dam. Vega carries the sought after combination of bloodline in sport today—the Voltaire, Nimmerdor cross with the coveted Calypso II thrown in for good measure. She was a broodmare before starting her jumping career in late 2009 and is competing successfully in the 1.0m jumpers. She has been shown at Anderson Ranch in Alberta as well as some competitions in BC. She is a good tempered mare with excellent jumping technique and powerful movement which she passes on to her offspring.

Sire, Vaultair, was imported from Europe as yearling by Equitop Farm. Vaultair proved to be an excellent show jumper and sold to the USA for a junior rider.

Dam, Annewies, by Nimmerdor, was imported from Holland and competed in the open jumpers under the name Nimmerdora. Vavasour's dam definitely showed the strength of her sire's genes. "Nim" became a foundation broodmare for Slipstream Farm, producing a number of extremely athletic offspring that show equal talent for jumping and dressage.
